First, request to join the network. The administrator will either grant or decline your request. Second, the administrator can email users directly and invite them to the network. Afterwards, the new member may have to verify joining the network.

Step
3

When you log into Ning, a personalized start page is generated. It allows users to search new networks, create new networks, or the user can select to enter networks they already belong to.

4

Go to My Ning Networks and select the network you want to view.
